

Aim: How do we assess what we've learned this unit?

Today, you will begin your Unit 1 Final project!

You will be creating a program incorporating all of the Python skills you have learned thus far.

This is an individual project!

You will have options as to which program you would like create. You have 2 class periods to complete this.

Please follow directions carefully and use the rubric as a guide!